

Covid-19 testing update; June 2020

CORONAVIRUS and You

George Regional Health System wants to be sure our community stays updated on the latest Coronavirus (Covid-19) testing options and treatment.

To accomplish this, GRHS has three testing sites for individuals who think they are experiencing symptoms of the virus. Or, if you reasonably think you have been exposed to a person who tested positive for the virus you can still be tested. In other words, testing supplies have become more available and we have ample testing capacity for our community. Be sure to call ahead to one of the numbers listed below. We can normally see you the same day.

With people getting back out in the community and attending to everyday needs we will continue to see an increased viral spread. For the foreseeable future, our seniors and other vulnerable population must take all the recommended precautions: masks, hand washing, and distancing.

Currently, there is no vaccine for Covid-19 and outpatient treatment generally consists of treating the symptoms. For patients that may need inpatient care, GRHS has the latest drug regimen available, if needed.

If you feel like you need to be tested, please call for an appointment first.
